Schools Want Dispensary Funds.

The dispensary commission held a long session yesterday and there were many interesting developments, but nothing in particular which it is considered advisable to give the public just at this time. As usual there were several attorneys and whiskey druggists present, and, as usual, several attorneys and whiskey druggists present, and, as usual, several attorneys and whiskey druggists present.

The news that Superintendent of Education Martin is preparing to take steps to secure a prorata share of the funds of the State dispensary for the public schools of the State on the claim that $400,000 is due the schools from the profits under the State dispensary system has worried the representatives of the whiskey house so much.

Attorney General Lyon yesterday replied to the letter of Mr. Martin, advising him to file his claim with the commission. It is considered that there was anything due the public schools of the State. This claim will probably be filed Saturday. Anticipating the claim there has been more or less discussion among the members of the commission concerning it. It cannot be stated just what the attitude of the commission will be in regard to the matter, but, as has been stated before, more than one member of the commission is inclined to the opinion that this is a valid claim.

The Clark purchase has not been paid for yet and the people concerned may have to wait a long time before it is paid. The money was paid to Dudley, who made the sale of the $100,000 worth of the bond of directors in December, swore that no name was paid to him, and that the board, his testimony shows that some part of the shipment at least was not made according to the strict letter of the law.

The matter of the claim of the United States revenue department for $35,000 in back house fees, alleged to be due on account of dispensary selling beer in wholesale quantities, is in the hands of Mr. Stevenson.—The State.

Everyone knows that Spring is the season of the year when the system of the country is in a state of flux. The people are highly recommended. Try them. Sold by Chester Drug Co. if

The Man Who Sold Cocaine.

A Kansas City police judge, Harry Kyle, made the following statement the other morning: "Man can rob man of his money, his property and his family, but when you rob him of his honor, his will power, his health, his conscience, you have done him a deed for which he will never be paid. I have been asked if I could conscientiously believe a cocaine fiend, or, as I can better believe, a cocaine fiend, is a man who sells it to him, the man who has ruined a human life. Here in my hand I hold a small box containing ten cents worth of cocaine, an apparently harmless drug, but one which causes more want, more pain and more misery than any other substance. For each box of cocaine I find you the limit $100, and it is deplorable that this is the limit. Further than that I wish it distinctly understood that the man who sells it is guilty of a crime and will receive the same penalty." The box was heretofore, but it has been held to the terrible will in Kansas City.

For stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Price, 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by all druggists.

Rev. Coke D. Mann Makes a Stir.

Waltham, May 9.—It will be recalled that some weeks ago there was an unusual and sensational service at the Waltham Methodist church, when the pastor, Rev. J. C. Younger, made most humble apologies for certain articles written derogatory to certain of his brethren in the Methodist church.

On that day Rev. Coke D. Mann, who is a resident here and a member of the house of representatives and former pastor of Waltham church, arose and said that there were some men in the Methodist church and if some one did not check their work the church was going to the bad in South Carolina. Things had quieted down, nothing more was scarcely heard of the events of that day. But on Sunday after the pastor's sermon, Mr. Mann asked that he be allowed to make a statement. This he did in language most scathing and denunciatory.

He narrated briefly the charges against a presiding elder, and all without success. He told of the manner of his own trial, where the accused was charged with being a liar, promoter and chief witness after a trial lasting several hours, with only the witnesses for the prosecution, who were charged with being liars, promoters and chief witnesses after a trial lasting several hours.

He made an unmerciful attack upon the veracity of the presiding elder, saying that he had as much right to be a liar as the presiding elder. He made an unmerciful attack upon the veracity of the presiding elder, saying that he had as much right to be a liar as the presiding elder.

Congressman Overstreet.

Gettysburg, May 9.—Col. T. B. Butler informed your correspondent that on his return from Jamestown he met on the train a gentleman named Thomas who had been at the same place as Mr. Lee. Mr. Thomas informed him that about two years ago the good ladies of his neighborhood decided to clear off an old man's graveyard, that during the progress of the work they uncovered an old marble slab which disclosed the fact that it had been erected to the memory of Congressman James Overstreet, of New York.

Mr. Overstreet was a member of the Seventeenth congress and had died while on his way from the capital of the nation to his home in York district, S. C. While your correspondent is a native of York county, he never heard of this congressman before, and the Seventeenth congress must have held its sessions about 80 years ago. The ladies of the China Grove section are anxious to communicate with some of the relatives of the dead congressman, and should this be seen by any of the afore said relatives they can get full information by writing to Mr. Thomas, rear agent at China Grove, N. C.—Special to The State.

A Good Business Guide.
A few days ago a merchant, not crowded at that time with customers, said to a friend that had called on him that he had read the first chapter of the Book of Proverbs at all times, and that he saw more in its teaching than he had ever seen. An old Scotchman once said that the Book of Proverbs was the best guide a business man could study. A careful and frequent reading of that book and following its teachings would lead to honorable success at all times. Short cuts, corners, sharp tricks, frauds that would destroy here an indictment, oppressing the unfortunate with liens, mortgages and swindling operations would never be known. Let merchants, clerks, factory men, lawyers, and all who work in any way, take up that old Book and give it a careful reading and see if the old Scotchman was right. It will not be time lost.—Carolina Spartan.

Blue Ridge Railroad.
Anderson, May 10.—"The Blue Ridge railroad is to be completed through the mountains. The first assurance that we can give of this is that the work has been under way for some time in Tennessee and North Carolina."

This was the statement made today by Col. A. B. Andrews, the president of the road, at a conference with the directors of the chamber of commerce at the Hotel Chilopie today. Col. Andrews is here with Mr. W. P. Fildes, president of the Southern-William Banks, in The State.

Mr. William S. Lee, Sr., Dead.

Anderson, May 9.—A telegram has been received here announcing the death of Mr. William S. Lee, Sr., which occurred at Charlotte, N. C., this morning. Until three years ago Mr. Lee was a resident of Anderson. His wife died three years ago and it was then that he moved to Charlotte to live with his son, Mr. W. S. Lee, Jr. The following children survive him: W. S. Lee, Jr., vice-president and chief electrician of the Southern Power company, Charlotte; Miss Frances and Lila Lee, of New York; Mr. Carl Lee, a student at Clemson college; Mrs. Stearns, of Lancaster; and Mrs. Claude Shadrach, of Anderson. The body will arrive in Anderson tomorrow and interment will be made tomorrow afternoon.—Special to The State.

If any one has any doubt as to the value of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Wilmamite, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery on account of the failure of any remedy, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute kidney trouble. Lettner's Pharmacy.

Is Friday Unlucky?
Is Friday unlucky? Gladstone, Bismarck, Washington, Bismarck, Fahrenheit and Spurgeon were born on Friday. Henry VIII gave Calicut his commission which led to the discovery of North America, Columbus actually discovered the continent and the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock on Friday. On the same day the first newspaper printed by steam power (the London Times) appeared both on a Friday, while the stamp act was repealed in England on the same day of the week. With Charles Dickens Friday was an especial favorite. Chicago News.

Not a Horseshoe Age.

That automobiles do not herald a horseshoe age is evident in the steady increase in the number of horses and their value in prices. In seven years horses in the United States have increased about 50 per cent and average prices advanced from $44 1/2 to $93.11, and the gain in numbers increased from 12,537,524 in 1900 to 19,547,000 in 1907. In 1900 the total valuation of horses in the United States was $978,516,562, while the appraisal in 1907 aggregated $1,846,575,000. It is a most encouraging omen to the horse industry that motor vehicles have failed to decrease the volume or reduce the prices of horses in the country.—American Farmer.
